PARIS ATTORNEY WINS BIG SUIT FOR STATE

The proceeding brought in the Fayette County Court to set aside the agreed judgment in the Harkness estate, which was entered in that court June 2, 1916, was decided yesterday. The suit to set aside judgment was brought by T. E. Coyne, Revenue Agent for the State at Large about eighteen months ago, and proof was taken in New York and other places. On November 10, 1920, the case was tried.

The Harkness estate and the defendants were represented by Murray, Prentice & Holland, of New York City. Humphrey, of Louisville, Crawford & Humphrey, of Louisville, Barrett, Allen & Atkinson, of Louisville, Allen & Duncan, and Hunt, Northcott & Bush, of Lexington. The State of Kentucky was represented by Chas. I. Dawson, Attorney General, John C. Duly, and Franklin Talbott & Chapman, of Lexington.

HENRY S. CAYWOOD ANNOUNCES FOR STATE SENATOR

In this issue of the BOURBON NEWS will be found the formal announcement of Mr. Henry S. Caywood, of North Middletown, Bourbon County, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from this, the Twenty-eighth Senatorial District, composed of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery Counties. As custom in the past has decreed that at this time Bourbon County furnish the candidate, it is probable that Mr. Caywood's candidacy will meet with no opposition.

Mr. Caywood is one of Bourbon's most progressive and popular citizens, and since attaining his majority has been connected with the business interests of this community. Mr. Caywood is actively identified with the agricultural interests of Bourbon County, owning a large amount of fertile land which annually produce bountiful crops, besides the live stock raised annually on his land. He is in the strict sense of the word a "dirt farmer," and his long and varied experience in the conduct of his farming interests and his wide acquaintance with the stock dealing interests of Kentucky make him an ideal candidate to honestly and effectively represent the constituents of this great farming and live stock producing District.

Mr. Caywood served four years as Deputy Assessor of Bourbon County, and later was elected Assessor for four years, and his administration for this important office was discharged with general satisfaction to the tax payers of Paris and Bourbon County.

For the past ten years Mr. Caywood has been the Kentucky representative of Swift & Co., pork and beef packers, and during that period he has no doubt spent millions of dollars in payment for the great amount of live stock purchased from farmers in this locality.

Mr. Caywood has always taken an active interest in the upbuilding and well being of Bourbon County, giving largely of his time and means for those things that appeared advantageous to this community. During the great World War, Mr. Caywood was actively interested in all of the war work undertakings in Bourbon County, actively serving on all of the important committees, and lending every aid to the Government in the successful prosecution of the great conflict. His donations at all times to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., and other equally commendable organizations were extremely liberal, as were also his subscriptions to the many Liberty Bond and War Savings Stamp campaigns.

Mr. Caywood has given a great deal of time to the tobacco interests of the Bluegrass region, of which he grows a large amount annually. He is actively connected with the Paris tobacco market, being Vice President of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Co., which actively operates three large brick warehouses in Paris. He is a director in the Peoples Deposit Bank & Trust Co., in Paris; holds similar connection with the North Middletown Deposit Bank, and is Chairman of the North Middletown Graded School Board.

Mr. Caywood is a pleasing and agreeable gentleman, extremely popular throughout the Bluegrass region, and his friends predict that he will be honored with the nomination he is seeking without opposition.

Mr. Caywood's card to the Democratic voters of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery Counties follows:

Mr. H. S. Caywood Announces Candidacy For Senator.

To the Voters of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery Counties:

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator from this, the Twenty-eighth Senatorial District, comprising the counties of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery, and to ask the voters of this district to consider my candidacy when casting their votes.

If nominated and elected to this important position as your Senatorial representative I promise to give to the office the best effort there is in me for the advancement of the great interests of my constituents and to the interests of the State at large, as I see it.

There has been much discussion recently regarding the advisability of calling an extra session of the Kentucky Legislature to submit a Fifty Million Dollar road bond issue to the voters of Kentucky and to this movement I desire to voice my opposition at this time. The proposition is preposterous, and in my judgment, if it were submitted to the voters of Kentucky it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

I have always been an advocate of good roads, but if the farmers and business men of Kentucky don't get some kind of relief from the burdensome Federal, State and County taxes it means disaster under the prevailing conditions. The State and County tax rates have remained about the same, but under the exciting speculative times through which we have been passing, values have been raised on real estate from two hundred to three hundred per cent, and we are now paying from two to three times as much money out for taxes as we paid three years ago. With almost all commodities back to pre-war prices we certainly are entitled to some relief from this tax burden. I am firm in my belief that if the people of Kentucky will elect a Legisla-

BOOSTING HOME PRODUCTS

In addition to the placards "Trade At Home" distributed and placed in conspicuous places about the city, the Paris Commercial Club is having thrown on the movie screen at the Grand and the Alamo slides advocating the "Trade At Home" plan.

The business men of Paris realize perfectly that their prosperity is dependent upon the business success of all the enterprises of the home neighborhood. When the people of the surrounding country come in here and buy goods regularly they make business allies of our merchants, who will go the limit to boost their products whenever they have the chance. Every farm and every workshop that does its business through this center will get substantial help in getting the merits of output recognized. The county and the city must co-operate in a business way. And by trading at home they help each other.

NOTED NOVELIST'S MOTHER SENDS FITTING MEMORIAL

John Christman, Paris florist, received last week a large bundle containing mountain cedar, laurel and pine cones, from Mrs. John W. Fox, Sr., of Big Stone Gap, Va. Accompanying the shipment was a letter from Mrs. Fox, asking him to make the materials into wreaths, and place them on the grave of her son, John Fox, Jr., in the Paris Cemetery. The wreaths were fashioned by Mr. Christman and will be placed on the noted novelist's grave by Superintendent Will Smith. The wreaths commemorate the author's birthday, which is December 16.

No more fitting tribute of motherly love could be paid than these wreaths made of the mountain laurel and other materials which were so intimately associated with the life of John Fox, Jr. He loved the mountains and the mountain flowers, of which he wrote so truthfully and tenderly, and none knew better than he the beauty of the laurel, the rhododendron, and the other wild flowers of the mountains.
